He was followed by Senators Holloway, Noe Salyer, Smith and Stephenson. The Republicans again voted solidly for Boyle. Barrd was the first Democrat in the House to vote for Carlisle. After him came Car-roll, Dougherty, Norman, N. N. Rice Speight, Swinford, Violet, Walker and Witt. There were no speeches of explanation to-

Senator Holloway also spoke in explanation, as did Senator Salyer. They took the ground that it was theig duty to vote for the nominee whenever there was a chance was paired with senative was paired with senative was a chance was provided that he wished to vote.

Senator Bronston protested and said that the Republicans see that the pair was not broken. Mr. James arose and caused the wildest excitement by saying that if any attempt was made to sleet join. G. Carlisle, he would vote for Blackburn. The sasembly was in a turmoil. The friends of Blackburn amount of his pair, for Carlisle and that a sound money Republican could not be elected, he would follow his people's wishes and vote for a sound money Democrat. He changed his vote to Carlisle amid the wideest excitement. Men jumped on chairs and cheered wildly. Howard moved to adjourn, but Bronston objected and turmoil again arose.

"I want to give an opportunity to the sound money Democrats to elect Carlisle," said he. The roll was ordered called on the motion to adjourn and the motion was lost. Representative Lyons completely lost his head and swore that he would try to defeat any attempt to elect Carlisle. In this he was encoursed by the friends of Blackburn. In explaining his vote on adjournment he said that if the Republicans would say that they intended to try to elect a Republican he would vote aye.

Salyer called him to order and Lyons said that as he was called to order by the friends of Carlisle, he would vote no.

He was cheered by Blackburn's friends.

Representative Chambers here received a note from Mr. Weissinger, with whom he was paired.

THE VENEZUELAN QUESTION.

English Editors Say It's None of Ou Business, but They Hope We'll Like Their Blue Book.

LONDON, March 7.-The Westminster Gazette, referring to the Venezuelan blue book, says: The first point to be made clear is that the blue book is nothing more than our case. We must not forget that we are open to answer. We welcome the apparent strength of our case, not because we imagine is so much room to give and take.

The St. James Gazette says on the same very strong case. What interests us is whether the American Commission will pay full attention to our statement, and, having done so, will decide purely on the evidence, without allowing itself to be in any degree influenced by other considerations. We must hope it will. We cannot recognize the commission, but we know its finding will have weight in America. The United States, however, have declared that we must arbitrate and on terms approved by them, and that if we decline we might expect war. This, in the main lines, is the situation between Great Britain and the United States, and we delude ourselves if we suppose that a settlement is practically reached by the publication of elaborate and exhaustive blue book.

The Globe says: "Although the British." subject: It is a very forcible statement of a settlement is practically reached by the publication of elaborate and exhaustive blue book.

The Globe says: "Although the British case is thus brought into court, it would be a profound and most regrettable misconception to assume that it will be submitted formally or informally to the American Government. Such action would practically admit the right of the United States to intrude in an authoritative and imperious manner into all disputes with European powers possessing territories in America and neighboring States. Our case is not presented to Washington, but to Caracas. Of course, we hope the Americans will recognize the impregnable strength of our position; but they cannot too clearly understand that England will not brook the interference of an outside power during discussion of the question."

This is a summary of Great Britain's position as outlined in the British Blue Book on the Venezuelan boundary dispute.

"1. Long prior to and at the time of the treaty of Munster, in 1646, the Dutch founded settlements in various parts of British Guiana, particularly on the coast.

"2. The only Spanish settlement prior to them was Santo Home de Guayana.

"3. During the whole period from 1848 to 1786 the Dutch had uninterrupted possession of the entire coast line and the River Corintin to Barima.

"4. During the same period they had explored the upper portions of nearly all therivers and made many settlements in adjacent districts.

"5. Prior to 1723 there was no settlement of Spaniards except Santo Home de Guayana.

atter much carnest entors in securing a promise from Cardinal Satolii that he would visit St. Louis, an article appeared in an afternoon paper saying that Fr. Kielty had received a letter from Dr. Rooker, secretary of the Papal legation at Washington, Sating that it was not altogether likely Cardinal Satolii would visit St. Louis.

Archbishop Kain read this without any outward evidences of pleasure and then set to work to discover how the information reached the newspaper in question.

It turned out that the statement had been mailed to the paper and "F. M. Kielty" was subscribed to it.

Thereupon the Archbishop sent for Fr. Kielty and called him down. When the priest was shown the written communication he pronounced the signature a forgery.

Fr. Kielty said openly that he was the victim of a clerical conspiracy to injure his standing with the Archbishop and as the incident courted within a corporate that the account of the control of the product of the paper and the standing with the Archbishop and as the incident courted within a corporate that the account of the product of the paper and the product of the paper and the paper and incident ocurred wishin a fortnight the actimony it engendered has not yet worn off.

It has been an open secret among Fr. Kielty's friends for a long time that he was employing part of his leisure in preparing a monograph of Archbishop Kenrick.

He had been a member of the dead prelate's household in the early sixtles and was in a position to know him well. So the day after Archbishop Kenrick's death the Post-Dispatch sent to him for an expression.

He told the reporter that he had something written, but did not think it would be opportune to publish it at the present time. This surmise seemed to worry him, for he undertook to test its correctness and sent the article in question to a morning paper for publication.

This surmise seemed to worry him, for he undertook to test its correctness and sent the article in question to a morning paper for publication.

Fr. Kleity's brother clergymen are of the opinion that his doubts of the opportuneness of his article were well founded.

This article, which seems destined to be the basis of another diocesan sensation, contains some striking remarks about the dead Archbishop.

"The death of the most venerable Peter Richard Kenrick, Archbishop of St. Louis, at the advanced age of 90 years, removed no prominent figure from our midst," is the opening sentence.

Another passage reads:

"He had no enlarged views, however: no deep moral insight, no extraordinary executive power, but was devoted to all that belonged to his office. It has been said by those who knew him best, that another man though not so highly endowed could have done the same work that he did. He was no statesman. He could not go between capital and labor, as Manning did. He could not quiet the multitude as he did. This is no matter of censure. He was always consciously sincere, though he was far from being always consistent. He was at heart a monarchist no less than a prelatist, and a national church, subordinate, of course, to Rome as a center of unity, but independent in its local self-government, was the object of his aspirations. He was emphatically a Christian and a Catholic, but was no great Irishman as regards home rule, nor 'Papist' as regards the temporal power, and some other things, too. He was too thoroughly aristocratic by temperament to be capable, of entertaining democratic views, even though living in America. One would think that his clay had been kneaded from the dust of the old high-born titled good qualities fitted him for the episcopal station in an organic period of the church, rather than in her missionary present condition in the American Republic."

Referring to the pathetic twilight of the aged metropolitan's life he says:

"Occasionally he would attempt to act as though his powers were unimpaired. He labored hard to keep his old-time severity of expression, but the lowering gloom of the brow, the severe curl of the lip and the heavy folds which give a new sternness to the outline of the throat and chin showed the change that had taken place.

"Long prior to his death he was unable to read and spent his time sitting dreamily, he his chair. His temper became so uncertain that but few could endure it for long.

"He would not accept the fact that his days of usefulness were past, and that dother hands were outstretched to take hold other hands were outstretched to take hold of the reins that were falling from his of the grasp. He clung desperately to life feeble grasp. He clung desperately to life

Some Laymen Are Bitter in Their Denunciation of What They Term the Disgrace to the Church.

Canon Davis' open air service innevatio may have awakened varying emotions in staid members of the Episcopal laity in St. Louis, but the divine has at least received of that church in his partial emulation of Salvation Army methods.

Still it was a surprise to two of them, Dr. William Short of St. Peter's and Dr. Robert A. Holland of St. George's Church. Dr. P. J. Robert of the Church of the Holy Compunion was not surprised. He believes that Canon Davis will accomplish great though it may be new in St. Louis, as new in any other denomination as in the Episcopal Church.

"In East London the people of Oxford and Cambridge and the Ritualists have gone into the slums and have taken up their residence there. They have secured halls, or made use of the old churches from which the original congregations have removed and are laboring in the very midst of the lower classes. The only difference between this and the work commenced by Canon Davis is that Canon Davis is bringing the propile to the church, while in England the churches are taken to the people.

"The misapprehension exists," added Dr. Robert, "that the Episcopal Church is cold, austere and rigid. The truth is that it is as pliant as India rubber and san adapt itself to any condition. I believe that the movement started by Canon Davis can be productive of nothing but good. If it were possible I believe it would be well to extend the movement further by workers taking up their labors could cover a wider area."

Dr. Wm. Short of St. Peter's Church was asked if he considered Caron Davis' movement contrary to the term? of the Episcopai Church.

"Why, no," was the reply. "A man may "when a church."

Davis received the suggestion, since he was educated in England.
"This movement means a great deal, having been inaugurated by the Episcopal Church. I believe that it will be followed by similar efforts in the slums from the Episcopal Churches of the West End. Of course their efforts would not be carried on in the West End because it would be accompanied with no results."

The Post-Dispatch has received many letters on the Canon's innovation, showing the very striking variance in the views of the laity. Some of them are appended:

To the Editor of The Post-Dispatch.

It is certainly a sad state of affairs when our city clergy have to don their sacred vestments, march up and down the streets at night to attract crowds, then try and have them follow them into their churches, for the purpose of winning souls! Has it come to this, that we are to take the teachings of our prayer book, to go about our work in this way, lowering the dignity of their offices, and making those who are sincere, and who are inclined to doubt, think that after all these teachings, if construed in the light of the Cathedral clergy, are to be believed as the correct teachings, and they do not want or care to be taken into the fold, and the result will be not only the loss of salvation to those who would possibly accept it, but also the removal of members of the church to another, where no show or farce of this kind is conducted; I do not believe our good and wise Bishop will consent to any such demonstration as they have started out to make. It is getting to be pretty hard if our clergy can not attend to their duties assigned to them, and take care of their own parish; but why they should try to imitate the Salvation Army in going through their scenes, is something hard to understand. Away with such hypocrist, to the Editor of The Post-Dispatch.

Referring to your graphic description in this afternoon's journal of the eccentric and sacrilegious doings of the Rev. CHURCHMAN.

To the Editor of The Post-Dispatch.

I am a stranger in a strange country, and in glancing over your bright paper of this evening's issue I notice that there seems to be some objection to the going on the street by church members and bringing in a class of people that otherwise would not seek admittance on the grounds that "there is danger that emotional excitement is the moving cause that impels the class of sinners reached by this method to enter the house of God, and there is room to fear that not so much substantial reformation will follow as is hoped for."

I am not a church member, but were I and giving my whole time to the saving of sinners. I would not feel that I had done my duty did I not, by every means conceivable, gather together all those I could reach and bring-before them the bedefits and happiness that are given to those who serve God.

What particularly recommended the Memphilan to Mr. Lockwood's club was the fact of Mr. Patterson being a Southerner and an ex-Confederate soldler. It was thought that these qualifications pscullarly, fitted him to influence the Southern and ex-Confederate element of Missouri Democrats.

All of the Francis followers profess to be greatly surprised at Mr. Bland's declination of the invitation to divide time with Congressman Patterson while he is in Missouri. The only reply Mr. Bland made to the invitation wired to him last evening by ex-Gov. Francis was a laconic and emphatic "No." The factionists think Mr. Bland should have given some reason for his declination, but the friends of the great exponent of bimetallism understand perfectly well why he refused to meet Mr. Patterson or anybody else in joint debate at the present time, and that is that Mr. Bland does not desire to reopen an issue in the Missouri Democracy which was settled months ago by a regular State convention of the party. Besides, they say it would be foolish for Mr. Bland to allow the Francis factionists the use of his name to attract large crowds to hear their orators speak and have the news go out from Missouri that the party in this State is again in turmoli, as attested by the size of the audiences that greeted Congressman Patterson.

BY A PREACHER.

Rev. Kellogg Tells Schrader He -Is a Fraud.

THE HEALER'S WILD RAGE.

Called the East St. Louis Divine Who Exposed Him "Dirty Devil," and Tried to Fight.

At the Globe Hotel in Alton (III.) Saturday morning Rev. R. J. Kellogg, pastor of the First M. E. Church at East St. Louis, denounced "Divine Healer" fraud and swindler.

Rev. Kellogg saw Schrader's picture in a St. Louis paper, and was positive that he was the same man who about a year ago attempted to raise a donation at Flora, Ill., on the representation that he was the pas-tor of the Methodist Church in Phillips, Wis., which had been recently burned. When questioned by Rev. Kellogg, he was

nounced as a fraud.

Rev. Kellogg went to Alton Friday to see if Schrader was not the same man. The "Healer" was then in St. Louis getting pictures, but his manager strenuously denied the minister's charges, and after the latter left promised to pay all expenses if he would return to-day and face Schrader.

In answer to a telegram to this effect Rev. Kellogs came up from East St. Louis this morning and accompanied by Chief of Polics Kuhn and a newspaper man went to the Globe Hotel, where he positively identified Schrader as the man who attempted the church swindle at Flora, and said that he worked the same game successfully at Memphis, Mo., and Lebanon, besides stealing an overcoat from a Methodist minister with whom he was stopping at the latter place.

After the denouncement, Schrader opened up business with an immense crowd of patients, many of whom came on the reduced rates being given by the railroads.

In answer to telegrams from the Chief of Police parties from Memphis, Mo., and Lebanan, Ill., have promised to come and identify Schrader as the swindler who visited those places.

In the meantime the "Healer" tells his numerous patients that these persecutions do not bother him and are similar to those inflicted on the real Christ.

conduct had also been aired in the Louisville Ledger and Flora Journal.

"But this is not the only time that Schrader has been exposed," continued Mr. Kellogg. "His-genius has evidently taken a wider range. About two months ago a Methodist preacher of Arkansas wrote an account of his peculiar doings in that State which was printed in the Central Christian Advocate of St. Louis.
"Testerday when I was at Alton I was shown an article from a paper printed at Hinckley, Minn., entiled. Warning-Look out for Schrader." which contained the charge that he had imposed on a credulous kind-hearted preacher of that place, who assisted him to raise some money, in return for which the 'healer' had got away with a brand-new overcoat, the property of his benefactor. This makes three times this fraud has been exposed, and still excursion trains are running to Alton carrying people to be humbugged, and saloon-keepers and others have subscribed a round sum to hold on to the attraction over Sunday.
"And those managers of his are a hard lot. It is common talk at Alton that other games besides the 'healing racket' are being run 'on the side,' and a man can be accommodated according to taste or preference at shell games or three-card monte to his heart's content. They are ignorant Takirs, also, so far as their religious fraud is concerned. I asked one of them what Schrader's creed was, and he didn't know what I meant."

Rev. Kellogg's statements will be read with interest by people in St. Louis, upon which fair city the "healing" outfit are said to have early designs.

There were Republicans by the score waiting to have a talk with him at the Planters' Hotel. He arrived from Kansas City on the early morning train. Chief Clerk Charlie Fields received him. He didn't register. He said he didn't want to be worried by callers.

But he lingered a moment too long at the counter. Thos. F. Clohesey, a leader of a McKinley Club at Cincinnati, O., had a long talk with the Major. When they parted the Major wore a highly polished McKinley button and a broad smile.

"Yes," said he, "I'm a McKinley man. There is no doubt about the Governor being the Republican nominee for President. But, of course, I am only interested as any other voter. That little talk was merely friendly—an old friend of mine, and he gave me this button. "Will I attend the big meeting? Yes. I'll be there as an outsider. But, of course, I won't have anything to say. I am interested like anyone else."

"What about your campaign for gubernatorial honors?"

"Personally I know little about that." The Major chuckled as he spoke. "You see," he continued, "I am taking no part in that. My friends are doing all that, It was the same four years ago. Without any request, or any assistance. from me, friends secured my nomination. I didn't want it. I don't care very much now, if I secure it or not. Then I am not worrying about it. As the old saying goes, lightning doesn't strike twice in the same place, so it will be with my nomination. I am making no effort on my own behalf. What is being done others are doing, but as I say, there is not much danger of my heading the State Republican ticket. I am not taking very much interest in politics, not more than the every-diffy politican."

reorganization of the Excelsior Manufacturing Co, in the early spring. Negotiations looking to that end are now under way, and while the members of the old company are not willing to give out the particulars it is understood that Eastern capital is being interested. This has been brought about largely through the influence of the New York bondholders, who are not willing, of course, to see the firm's great plant-lie dide.

This plant is one of the most complete of its kind in the world to-day, and its estimated value is $1,200,000. It is bonded for $500,000, and it will be impossible to meet the interest payments until work is resumed.

Mr. Charles Filley is now in the East conferring with the creditors, and advices from him are of the most encouraging nature. He expressed himself as of the opinion that the finances will be arranged satisfactorily, and that the work of manufacturing stoves will be resumed in a short time.

A member of the old firm said Saturday: "Our affairs are just in that condition now that we cannot discuss them in detail, as the men with whom we are negotiating do not wish their names made public. We hope in a short time, however, to announce that we are in shape to do business again."

CINCINNATI, O., March 7.—Shriff Piummer of Newport, Ky., to-day defanded possession of Scott Jackson and Alonso Walling, held in the jall here for the murder of Fearl Bryan, whose headless body created a sensation.

These men were arrested in this city and have been held here pending an investigation, although they were indicted weeks ago by the Grand-jury of Campbell County, Kentucky, and Gov. Bushnell of Ohio henored the requisition of Gov. Bradley of Kentucky foa their removal two weeks ago.

The atterneys of the prisoners contested the extradition, and on the regularity of these papers the arguments before Judge Buckwalter began at $4. m. The hearing proceeded with no such demonstrations as were made hast Saturday when the same eases were called.

The court-room was crowded, but there were no large crowds in the street, and no trouble is anticipated to-day on either side of the river.

This afterneon Judge Buchwalter overruled the motion to discharge the prisoners on the ground of the irregularity of the proceedings for extradition. He reserved further argument on the validity of the requisition papers, and does not state when the games will be given a further hearing.

Court adjourned at 12.50 till 2 p. m., when the Court may ansounce the rest of his programme. A patriel wagen was kept in waiting inside the court yard during the afternoon in order to transfer the prisoners as soon as the order of the court is given.

The principal point of attack upon the appers was the affidavit accompanying the ers as soon as the order of the court is given.

The principal point of attack upon the papers was the affidavit accompanying the indictment, and it was purely technical, largely depending on verbal forms.

So far as the Court's rulings have been made, it appears that the arguments have little weight, and unless something more important is presented the hearing may be terminated by an order to deliver the prisoners to Sheriff Plummer.

If that is done, arrangements are made for their transfers without a moment's delay, and they can be well on their way to Covington or Newport before the crowd in the Court-house would have time to tell the result on the outside.

Kellar, the Magician, Has Been Great Globe-Trotter.

STORY OF AN UNUSUAL LIFE.

For Thirty Years He Has Been Mystifying Audiences and Laughing at Spiritualistic Mediums.

Kellar, the somewhat hairless and extremely entertaining personage who has been doing such queer things at the Grand Opers-House this week, has had a peculiar life. He has traveled from pillar to post, mystifying the people of all climes. Sometimes he has been a spiritualist and sometimes just a simple trickster, but he has always been clever.

It was when he first started his career that he gave the public the spiritualistic gag, but he got over that long ago. Since then he has insisted that there is nothing supernatural in the agencies he employs.

"I was born 47 years ago in Eria, Pa., where my early boyhood was spent. When I had completed such education as the town afforded, my father apprenticed me to a druggist and for some little time I tried to learn the business. But the task was not a delightful one. I wanted to see the world and an opportunity in the shape of a freight train presenting itself I one day found my self a newsboy in New York.

"I will skip all the troubles I had in the big city and how I was adopted by Rev. Robert Harcourt, who sook me to live with him at his home in Canandaigua, N. Y. One day I answered an advertisement in a Buffalo paper and secured a position with a well-known magician in those days, known as Fakir of Ava. In this way I was started in the business and after traveling for several seasons with the necromancer I went out on my own hook and began 'starring' in Michigan. I finally wound up in Chicago 'dead broke."

out on my own hook and began 'starring' in Michigan. I finally wound up in Chicago 'dead broke."

"At last I got on my feet again and then I joined Davenport Brothers and Fay, spiritual mediums, and traveled with them all over the United States and Europe.

"In 1873 I went to Havana with Fay as a partner and played all over the Island of Cuba and saw the bull fights and other entertainments of the people."

Kellar's biography in speaking of his Cuban experience says: "He knew German well, and had a fair knowledge of Latin, but these accomplishments did not help him much among the descendants of the Old Castilians. The usual way in such cases is to hire an interpreter, but the man available for the work demanded three hundred dollars a night, and in other respects seemed to imagine himself the principal feature of the show. He could not brook the idea of giving himself up altogether to the mercies of an interpreter, who might not, improhabily, say all sorts of things that, to put it mildly, would be directly contrary to the facts. He determined to be his own interpreter. Being always apt in this regard, he had all his speeches written out in good colloquial Spanish, and carefully committed them to memory."

them to memory."

"We made such a success in Cuba," continued Kellar, "that Fay and I went to Mexico, where our good luck followed us and money was plentiful. From Mexico I went to South America, late in the summer of 1874, and from there to New South Wales and toured the Colonies.

"From Australia we went to India, Siam, China and many other places, where I had many funny experiences.

of June 19, 1878, which comments on the result:

"So ended the Kehoe-Kellar challenge. That Kellar was secured as perhaps few other men could secure him, is beyond doubt, and his triumph was therefore the greater. It was a feat that will not soon be forgotten. "In many instances Spiritualists, who saw the wonders Kellar performed, declared that he was a powerful physical medium, without the moral courage to acknowledge himself as such. Immediately following the Kehoe test, a Spiritualist wrote in this strain to the Cape Times, and wound up by saying, "It is very wrong for him to abuse such power, and so ridicule, for the sake of popularity, what I believe to be a great truth."

"Soon after this I went to England," Mr. Kellar continued, "and in 1878 came to America and began a tour of this country, which was at first not over-successful.

"One day while going from Cleveland to "One day while going from Cleveland to Buffalo, the train was delayed several hours by snow and I endeavored to entertain my fellow passengers by extracting silver dollars from the beard of an old man from the country, who at lest got so worked up over the amount of money that was being taken from his whiskers that he made me stop, and then taking a comb from his pocket began a search for coin himself. Not finding any, he demanded that I give him back his money and the passengers had to come to my rescue and explain that it was a trick.

to come to my rescue and explain that it was a trick.

"Business being bad in this country, I again boarded a steamer and before returning to this country played in England and all over Europe, South America and Africa.

"In 1881 I met 'Chinese' Gordon on the Island of Mauritius, in the Indian Ocean, and spent some little time in his country and this time did a big business. For the next four or five years everything went well, but I had trouble with my voice, and in 1890 laid, off for a year and was operated on in Chicago, where I also studied elocution."

Mr. Keilar concluded the story of his life and travels and when the reporter was about to eleave the magician said: "Don't carry those things away in your hat." and then extracted money, handkerchiefs and other foreign articles from the reporter's hat and the-worlbe hastened to get out of the necromancer's room before anything else happened.

able has been said abo introduced in the Council a week ago, appropriating 1450,000 for the purchase of a device for taking clear water from muddy reservoirs. The bill was introduced by Councilman, Al Vallat, and Contractor William J. Baker acknowledges that it was done at his request.

The measure has met with much unfavorable oricicism, but Mr. Baker is satisfied he has a good thing and by adopting it the city of St. Louis will have an adequate supply of water as clear as crystal incidentally Mr. Baker claims its adoption will save several million dollars to the city. To a Post-Dispatch reporter Friday Mr. Baker showed a specimen of what his "skimmer" will do. He had two bottles. One was filled with a liquid as clear as crystal. The other required no label to show it was pure and unadulterated Missouri Biver water. He said the clear water was taken, from the same reservoir and on the same day as the bottle of muddy water, but if had passed through his "skimmer," which accounted for the contrast in appearance.

"This ought to convince anyone that our invention will do what we claim far it," said Mr. Baker. "I have not put myself at the head of this business to fleece the city out pf any sum of money. Jay Noble, who invented and paterned the device, explained its workings to me, and so convinced was I that it was practical that I with several other St. Louis gentlemen organized to sell she system to the city.

"I see it has been said the Niedringhauses are back of 5the scheme. It is not true. They have absolutely no interest in it. Mr. Noble, the patentee, is employed by them and he has put in a system at Granife City. The 'skimmer,' as I J is termed, has proven a success there.

"It has been urged against the adoption of our plan that the city wants a system of fliters that will cost all the way from $3, 500,000 to $4,000.000. Now, all I want the Council and operated by the city could be utilized. The fliter, which is an oaken contrivence, is so constructed that k floats on the top one-half inch of water can pass through the pipe. T

An Unusual Case in East St. Louis With Some Pathetic Features.

Wesley Singleton, colored, who was arrested by the police of East St. Louis last Tues-day on the charge of living in adultery with a white woman named Mary Miller, died ast night of hemorrhage of the lungs. At the trial on Tuesday Singleton was acquitted and it is alleged that it was evident that he was a sick man at the time. The woman

Benjamin P. Clement died at his home at 4244 Castleman avenue Friday afternoon. He had taken a quantity of rough on rats in his office at 124 South Fourth street during the morning. Mr. Clement was a member of the firm of Clement & Melvin, furnace builders. About noon two clerks in his employ heard groans in his office. They entered and found their employer writhing in pain. Medical aid was immediately called and the stomach pump was used. Mr. Clement was removed to his home. The poison had been so thoroughly absorbed that he died in a few hours. so thoroughly absorbed that he died in a few hours.

There was apparently no reason for the act. His business affairs were in a pros-perous condition and there were no family difficulties. Deceased was 40 years old and leaves a wife and two young children.

Ragene V. Debs delivered an address in Music Hall. Exposition Building, Friday night. He was greeted by a large and enthulastic audience. The theme of his discourse was the present candition of labor, the causes of its depression and the remedy. Mr. Debs suggested the ballot as the means to remedy the condition of the workingman. The expression was greeted with a tremendous round of applause. He spoke at Walhalla Hall, Tenth street and Franklin avenue, Saturday afternoon.

THE REPUBLICAN CAUCUS CALLED

No Certainty That Its Choice Will Be Elected

SCHOOL BOARD IN CHAOS.

McClain May Jump in and Beat Both Grawe and Ulrich for the Presidency.

At last the regular caucus of the Re-

Bublican City Central Committee directing.
Republican members of the board to meet in regular caucus Saturday afternoon.

The greatest secrecy is being preserved in the mater, especially as to the place of meeting. It is understood, though, that the Merchants' League Club is the place selected. Not all of the Republican members were expected to respond, and in fact some trouble has been experienced whipping into line even the members credited to the Grawe faction.

This fact accounts for the delay in call-opposition.

The faction represented by Jacob B. Ulrich from statements made by its members present at the meeting of the Building Committee Friday night, is pretty confident of success. It has held no caucus, but one will be held before Monday night.

Will be held before Monday night.

There is a slight hitch in the plans of the Ulrich faction, arising from the common preference of Directors Dieckman and McClain for the chairmanship of the Teachers Committee, and the fear that Djeckman may be won over to the other faction by the turning down of Grawe and Bus.

A solution of this difficulty was presented Saturday in the shape of a plan to make W. H. McClain president and Ulrich vice-president, with the accompannying chairmanship of the Building Committee, Mr. Dieckman to be given the chairmanship of the Teachers Committee.

manship of the Building Commisce, Mr. Dieckman to be given the chairmanship of the Teachers Committee.

The success of this plan, it was stated, was dependent only upon Mr. Ulrich's willingness to relinquish the presidency. He may be induced to do this by the representation of his Democratic supporters in the board.

Friends of Mr. McClain state he will be willing to give up the Teachers Committee to Chairmanship, for the Presidency, in spite of his expressed disinclination for the latter, and that this will solve the problem at once, as Director Dieckman would get the Teachers Committee. By this arrangement Directors Berg and Hequembourg, the two or remaining Republicans expected to vote with the Ulrich faction, win be given places on the Building Committee, and also Directors Brady and Collins.

This leaves Directors Collins, Penney and Means and the Course of Study Committees, of which he is now a member under the present organization.

It is conceded that all the Democratic members, with the possible exception of C. G. Penney of the Eleventh District, will vote for McClain. While Penney's vote is assured to Ulrich for the Presidency, it is understood that his handsome majority at last Tuesday's election was due largely to Republican votes, and it was stated Saturday by a Republican party leader who is friendly to the Ulrich faction, that the election of a Democrat to the Presidency might prove too big a pill to swallow.

In her amended bill Miss George recites how, when Dr. Bernays operated upon her for a tumor in the throat at the Marion Bims Medical College, he expessed her on the operating table in a nude condition to the gase of about seventy-five medical students. She brings forward the additional allegation that when she lay upon the table Dr. Bernays, by representing to her mother that it was customary and assuring her that strictest privacy would be observed, secured a photograph of her naked body. Afterwards he wrote a pamphlet describing the operation and a reproduction of this photograph was given a prominent place. The Mayor grew irate yesterday over the accumulation of reports that had reached him, principally through the columns of the Post-Dispatch, that his Building Commissioner had been growing more and more coltish in his efforts to jump over into the pasture occupied by Mr. McMath and deprive that veteran warhorse of his grazing by kicking him over the fence and into the public road. So the Mayor, figuratively speaking, rolled up his sieeves, spat on his hands, took a tight grip on his snickersnee and hit the young and ambitious Mr. Randall a swat over the head, which resounded as follows:

Mayor's Office, City of St. Louis, March 6, Mayor's Omes, City of St. Louis, March 8, 1886.
"Mr. J. ## COUNCIL AND HOUSE

Underground Wires Discussed and Pension Ordinance Knocked Out.

The Council considered in Committee The Council considered in Committee of the Whole during the regular meeting Friday evening the underground wire ordinance. Some amendments made to the bill since its introduction were explained by Mr. Horton. It was objected that see. 804 G., which declares "corporations or persons failing to make a deposit within a certain number of days to cover the cost of work as estimated by the Board of Public Improvements, would vacate their franchise," would give existing companies a monopoly of the electric lighting franchise of the city.

Councilmen Nagel and Horton argued, however, that any company incorporating after the construction of the conduits could by special ordinance secure permission to lay its wires therein. An amendment was made to the section in which the city reserves the right to purchase the conduit, and the bill was laid over.

By a vote of 8 to 3 the ordinance appropriating $9,500 to the police pension fund was defeated, the contention of the majority being that they had no right to appropriate money to a fund which was without legal existence.

Statements showing expenditures of the South Market during the past year to have been $5,275.53, and the net liabilities of the same concern at the present time to be $1,898.9 were submitted.

There are two good reasons why the proposition that the State Convention nominate Senator Vest for re-election to port of Missouri Demothe beneficial effect the two on the Democratic campaign. Senator Vasi's, name will greatly strengthen the State ticket and his influence and work will invigorate the canvass of the State. Instead of concentrating their efforts on the legislative contests, Senator Vest and his friends will co-operate with the candidates for the State offices and the combination should be worth many votes that might otherwise be lost to the Democracy.

But another reason is the encouragement this action of the Missouri Democrats will give to the general policy of Champion Dogs of World-Wide Recrats will give to the general policy of nominating Senatorial candidates. The old plan of nomination by legislative caucus is undemocratic and vicious, It Club—dogs owned by Millionaires George with tenorant millionaires and political tricksters who have no more claim to seats in the Senate than a burglar has to the comforts of the home he has en-/tered by the skillful use of a jimmy. The Missouri Democracy should come out for the nomination and election of Senators by the people.

When the State Committee issues the call for the State nominating convention the United States Senatorship should l named in the list of offices for which nominations are to be made.

ROOT OUT THE FEE SYSTEM.

The abolition of the fee system in the rederal courts is now practically an mplished fact, the House having passed the bill providing fixed salaries for United States Attorneys and Mar-

The final settlement of the matter by Congress will mark the accomplishment of a great reform which will not only prove profitable and beneficial in the administration of justice in the Federal courts, but will serve as an excellent exmple to the States.

The revelations of abuses in the fee system which induced Congress to take up the question offered the strongest possible corroboration of the worst charges that have been made against the system. It was found that the compen sation of many of the fee offices was excessive and that in order to increase the compensation tricks were resorted to ich resulted in gross injustice and in the practical robbery of the Government. The expenses of some of the fee offices vere far in excess of the proper amounts. Experience has fully demonstrated that the fee system is pernicious and imprac-ticable. It is invariably attended by dals and difficulties. It offers oppornity for corruption and temptation to shonesty. The system should be rooted out of every department of government. State and Federal. The remnants of it which still exist in this State should be abolished by the next Legislature.

THE BLACKBALLING OF CARREGIE.

Mr. Lemuel A. Russell of Cleveland, O., has made himself famous as the man who dared to blackball Andrew Carnegie. Mr. Russell is a railroad attorney and a member of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Carnegie desired to become a ber of the Chamber of Commerce, a he knew Mr. Russell's chi.

him. Then Mr. Russell arope, and in a vigorous speech resisted the motion. Among other things he said;
Whatever else this chamber (the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce) does, so far as I am concerned I do not want it to play the snob. I do not certainly know, but I suspect that Andrew Carnegie has been an oppressor of the poor. If he has, I wish to vobe against him. If he has not, I will vote for him. If any member of this chamber will assure me of his personal knowledge that Mr. Carnegie has not willfully, cheerfully and intelligently oppressed the poor. I will gladly vote for him, otherwise not.

Among the members of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, most of them rich men, not one could be found who would vouch for Millionaire Carnegie that he has never "willfully, cheerfully and ine has never "willfully, cheerfully and in lligently oppressed the poor."

MINORITY RULE.

The Francis organ is renewing its whine about "proscription," "driving men out of the party," "disfranchisement,"

It is but a little while since the Republi nd the faction for which it speaks pub-icly announced that all Democrati ld, in the interest of harmony and as a Democratic principle, submit to the majority. On the strength of this annt, Lockwood and others denouncement, Lockwood and others de-clared that the single gold standard men would not make a fight in Missouri.

Now they not only propose to fight, but to fight for the proposition that the Conrressional districts have the right to se-ect delegates to the National Convention, without reference to the State Convention. The cry for "harmony" is no longer ased on the doctrine of majority rule, but of "minority representation." This is fortified by the cry of "proscription." Nobody is being driven out of the party. Nobody has a right to drive anybody els out. But a majority has the right to declare party principles and to make party nominations. The delegates are chosen by a majority vote, and that majority certainly has the right to say whom it will select to represent it.

It is absurd to say that any man i proscribed because he is not elected a delegate. It is equally absurd, if a numher band together advocating priciples opposed by the majority, and claim that opposed by the majority, and claim that they are proscribed if they are not per-mitted to have their way.

For a majority to elect its own representatives is not proscription. It is only a refusal of the majority to surrender the right of ruling to a factious minority

The Buchanan Democrats.

From the St. Joseph (Mo.) Gazette.
When the time comes for choosinggates to Sedalla, the Democratic of Buchanan County will not forget of Buchanan County will not forget their duty. They will not forget that Vest, Cock-rell, DeArmond, Stone and Bland—the champions of bimetallism—the men who are standing as a stone wall against the determined effort of Wall street to render perpetual the gold standard and the reign of the national banks—or Speculator Francis, Me Too Maintt, Corporation Lawyer Lehman and Lobbyist Bill Pheips are to lead the Democratic hosts in this year's campaign.

A Very Tame Affair. gang of railroad and corporation lawyers, inkers, grain gamblers, speculators and iministration cuckoos, styling themselves Administration cuckoos, styling themselves "sound money" Democrats, met at the Exposition Building, in St. Louis, last Saturday, for the purpose of hatching out some scheme by which a hopeless minority might rule an overwhelming majority. Although it was a State affair, the gathering was it was a State affair, the gathering was about as well attended as some of our county conventions. It was a very tame affair, and it seems that Messrs. Francis and Maffitt, and Railroad Lobbyists Phelps and Lehman were the chief actors. The Most Notable Absentee. From the Fulton (Mo.) Telegraph. The most notable absentee at the "sound money" pow-wow in St. Louis Saturday night was the Hon. "Boss" Filley. Had he passed around the word for "de gang" to come out, the audience would have been several times larger, and then, too, he could have said several encouraging words to the wreckers of Democracy. Those present and Mr. Filley are in perfect harmony—about the only harmony there is in the State. They are both agreed upon wrecking the Democratic party in Missouri, and are also united on the money question. When it was ascertained that Senator Palmer could not attend, an invitation should have been sent to Filley by all means,

The Francis Bolt. From the Centralia (Mo.) Courier. The chief event in Missouri during the past week was the bolt inaugurated by Dave Francis and his gang of cuckoos. Something like two hundred broken-down politicians, corporation lawyers and note shavers met in St. Louis Saturday and orranized a little party of their own, creating a central committee and sub-committees throughout the State. The gang kicked the throughout the State. The gang kicked the Pertle Springs platform into smithereens and got up one of their own, a mixture of misrepresentations and idiocy by the side of which a chapter from the Arabian Nights would appear respectable. The object of the bolt is to scare the State Convention at Sedalla next month into sending Dave Francis to the National Convention.

The Bolting Cuckoos.

From the Centralia (Mo.) Courier. So Boss Dave and his gang of Wall street cuckoos have bolted the Sedalia convention n advance. Well and good; we now know where to find the little clique of money lenders, grain gamblers, political shysters, eys.

From the Stanberry (Mo.) Sentinel.
The gold standard Democrats of this State have sounded the gong and issued their address. They will go into the fight and can no longer now accuse the silver or bimetal advocates of a move to disrupt the party. There never was a single standard Democracy in Missouri before until this wing cropped out through patronage fiedglings of President Cleveland.

Sam Cook Stands Pat. Mr. Francis and those who are acting under him have thrown down the guage of battle. It's for the friends of silver coinage battle: It's for the friends of silver coinage of battle: It's for the friends of silver coinage to say how this challenge shall be accepted. For ourselves we propose to use eyery honorable means to secure the selection of a delegation to the Chicago Convention which will reflect the honest sentiments of the great masses of the Democracy of this state and make a courageous fight for the reatoration of silver to its equal coinage rights with gold. The gold standard people have a perfect right to organize and fight for the control of the State Convention. But unless the friends of silver coinage in this State are indifferent to party success there will not be a single vote cast for a gold standard platform or agold standard candidate by the delegation from Missouri.

A Snap-Shot Picture.

From the Keytesville (Mo.) Signal.

One of the St. Louis papers made a "snap-shot" picture of the "Deve" Francis convention of last Saturday, as the delegates appeared in the hotel lobby. The distinguishing characteristic we noticed about them was the entire absence of the broad-brimmed last. All of them wore the silk hat or latest style of round stiff hat, and carried gold-headed canes. And there was an expression of haste on each face, as though the owsier was considering how much later than usual he would now have to sit up nights on account of being there much later than usual he would now have to sit up nights on account of being there in order to catch up in his work of calculating interest and clipping coupons from his interest-bearing bonds. These evidences unmistakably marked the gathering as one of bankers, lawyers (corporation) and capitalists. We venture the assertion, without fear of successful challenge, that there was not a genuine, bona fide working farmer in the entire lot. "Dave" Francis may fling that kind an occasional bone, but he don't invite them to sit down in council with him. The sight of the brouged face and hand and aroma of the barn yard is too much for his aristocratic eyes and nostrils.

When Mr. Francis moved that the Organization Committee be composed of two members from each district, one of the Dunklin County men got up and sereamed: "For God's sake, Mr. Chairman, don't insist on adopting that suggestion, for if you do it will force us to choose both our members from Dunklin hoose both our members from Dunklin county. number of votes on that ticket. I noticed last week that he was under the ban of the labor organizations, and I had nearly made up my mind not to vote for him.

These facts show that the man who wants office nowadays must be "square" with the trades unions and with the best interests of labor in general. The idea of "the laboring men be d —," will no longer do, and it is high time the partisans were finding it out. And particularly is it necessary for people who want to be candidates on non-partisan tickets or platforms to know this. This is not said for Mr. Jones' benefit, mind you (I do not know the reasons for his dark record with the trades unions), but for those prominent citizens who honestly want to help to reform abuses in government, yet are a hindrance to reform work because they have a pultocratic taint quite visible in their make-up.

BICYCLE SQUAD A GO.

Gotham's Streets Will Be Patrolled by More Blue Coated Wheelmen. NEW YORK, March 7.-The bicycle squa NEW YORK, March 7.—The bicycle squad-has proved satisfactory beyond anticipa-tion. When spring comes all New York's asphalt and macadam streets will be pa-trolled by policemen on wheels. This was decided upon at a meeting of the Police Board last night.

There was also formally ordered the es-tablishment of the Bertillon method of iden-tifying criminals as a regular adjunct of New York's police system.

Paine's Celery Compound the Best Spring Remedy To-Day in All the World.

It Purifies the Blood as Nothing Else Can Do-It Is Food for the Tired Brain---It Makes Strong Nerves!

Publicly Recommended as No Remedy of Any Kind Ever Was Before by Thousands Whom It Has Made Well.

G. Lansden, for years Superintendent of the St. Louis Geas-Light Co., was yesterday awarded a verdict for $12,500 damages against the Washington Gaslight Co. After he left the service of the Washington company he testified before a Congressional investigating committee that gas could be furnished to consumers here at 650 per thousand feet.

The company authorized the statement

Overworked and tired women are but one class of persons who are in urgent neeed of this wonderful remedy to make and keep them well. Business men who are not sleeping soundly, shop girls made pale and sickly by long hours of indoor work, and the countless sufferers from dyspepsia, kidney and liver trouble, need the invigorating effect of Paine's celery compound now that spring, with all its dangers is at hand. Its pre-eminence as a health-maker comes from its extraordinary powers of supplying appropriate nutriment to the blood, nerves and hourse within. It is an infailible relief for sall rheum, ecsema, and all blood dieases.

OUTLAW ETTINGER'S END.

Shot Rimself in His Blazing House Rather Than Be Arrested.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., March 7.—The sensational conflict between William Ettinger and the mob at Woodward, Center County, was ended in a most dramatic manner yesterday. Early yesterday morning the Sheriff wired the Commissioners in Bellefonte for an additional posse of twenty-five, but was authorised to deputise men from the crowd.

Several raids were made on the house, but the besiegers were repuised by the flying bullets. Finally, it was determined to burn out Ettinger. The torch was applied, and the crowd, in breathless excitement, watched the creeping flames and waited the denouement.

They did not have long to wait, for Mrs. Ettinger, with her two children, was soon forced to flee to escape death.

Ettinger lingered behind. It was thought he intended to die in the house, but just when the building was about to collapse he appeared at the cellar door, and the

thew Morris Who Killed a Man About a Hat

is case of Matthew Morris, alias Mor-oy, a steamboatman, charged with mur-in the second degree, was placed on trial udge Harvey's court at II o'clock Satur-morris-held him responsible.

The defendant is a tall, raw-boned specimen of humanity, who appears not to be naturally victous, but degraded by drink.

While in a drunken mood, about three years ago, Morris selzed his aged mother and thriw her out of a second-story window.

His deed cost him a term in the Workhouse.

NEARLY OUT OF SIGHT.

Perilous Adventure of John Gardiner in Midair.

200 feet above Olive street attracted the attention of thousands of people Saturday forenoon. The great crowd on the street stopped to look, but the man seemed not to pay the slightest heed as he swayed to and fro in the air.

John Gardiner is the man's name, and he is just a plain, ordinary iron-worker, but he has nerves that ought to be the envy of a soldier.

he has nerves that ought to be the envy of a soldier.

He was working on the top of the four-teenth story of the new Chemical building at Eighth and Olive streets, and the men with him were hoisting up a number of steel tresses for the upper floors. A great boom rose high above the level of the cornice of the Union Trust building and projected out over the grankle pavement of Olive street. Gardiner found it necessary twice to descend from his airy perch to the ground and, instead of resorting to the slow and tiresome method of climbing down by the ladders, he stepped onto the fron sling by which the girders are held and swinging far out was lowered to the street. As he hung above the top of the building he looked like a mere pigmy. The rope, which seemed like a mere thread, swung loosely in the air. Gardiner did not hesitate for a moment, however, and down he came as unconcerned as if he were seated in a chair at home.

"It is nothing," he said, "when you get

SOUTH ST. LOUIS SILVERITES They Will Get Together in Great Numbers March 14.

The free silver pot is beginning to simmer in the Tenth Congressional District, and by the 14th of March it will be at bolling point. On the evening of that day the Thirteenth Ward Silver Democratic Club will get together with their friends at Carondelet a mass meeting, and it is expected the raft-a mass meeting, and it is expected the rafters will be raised.

The club is now seventy-five strong and every member is an active advocate of the it of I gospel. They have made arrangements for a number of able and popular speakers for the occasion, including Hon. M. E. Benton, ex-Senator E. F. Stone, Harry M. Hill and John A. Lee. The meeting is expected to give a strong impetus to the free silver propaganda in South St. Louis and will be followed by others calculated to keep up the good work. An immense crowd will be present.

A TUB OF MUD.

The Damage It Inflicted on Daniel Keating Caused a Suit.

A tub full of mud fell upon Daniel Keating about a month ago, and because he was working for Henry Heman & Son at the time he wants $5,000 damages from tham. Keating did not object to the mud because he needed a bath anyway, but the tub drove him into the ground a few inches and he is all 'stove up." A rotten rope caused the damage.

Keyting's suit for the above amount was filed Saturday.

WOULD GO TO CONGRESS.

President Vandiver Willing to Represent the Fourteenth District,

Word comes from the Fourteenth Congressional District that President Vandives of the State Normal at Caps Grandeau is out for the Democratic aomination for Congress on the free allver issue.

Vandiver has been writing letters to prominent men in his party all ever the district inquiring into the situation and soliciting their support. His idea is, he says, that the one great issue before the people at this time is the financial question, and he announces that if he is nominated he will make his fight on that line.

The only competitor heard from thus far is Senator Ben Walker of Stoddard, whose term expires with the present Legislature, and who is considered shaky on the money question. Walker dodged the silver caucus at Jefferson City last spring and has never openly declared himself either way.

BLACKBURN\IS

1:65 p. m.—Second ballot is now being taken amid the wildest confusion, and it is thought an election is assured on his ballot. The second ballot resulted: Blackburn, is: Carlisle, 15. The Speaker decided no quorum. An effort was then made to adjourn, but this was fruitiess.

Senator Clark refused to vote when his name was called, and Senator Bronston asked that he be required to vote. The chair ruled that no member was required to vote, Senator Elliston voted for Carlisle, and this seemed to indicate Blackburn's doom.

Senator Holloway (Dem.) voted for Carlisle, as did Noe, Salyer and Smith, It is evident that the Republicans are refusing to vote with the idea of breaking a quorum.

Representative Baird (Dem.) voted for Carlisle, When Representative Chambers was called he arose and said that he had as much right to change his vote as others. "I have said before that whenever it became impossible to elec's a sound money Republican I would vote for a sound money Democrat."

impossible to elect a sound money Democrat."

He voted for Carlisle.

Senator Bronston asked if Chambers had been released from his pair with Weissinger. Violett then arose and presented the pledge already mentioned which released Chambers on condition that he voted for Carlisle. A discussion arose in which the genuineness of the signature was brought into question. Speight protested against Chambers casting his vote until it had been determined whether the signature of Weissinger to the vote releasing him from the pair been proven. Chambers arose and withdrew his vote for Carlisle (for the present only he said) Dougherty, Furnish. Norman, Speight, Stout, Walker and Violett voted for Carlisle. The two Populists, Poor and Edrington, again voted for Blackburn. The ballot resulted; Blackburn 49, Carlisle 15; total 64, which the chair decided was no quorum. Senator Jones then moved that the assembly adjourn until Monday at noon.

Before the vote on the motion to adjourn noon.

Before the vote on the motion to adjourn was completed Senator Bronston arose and said that he understood Senator Oglivie was getting very sick. He therefore withdrew his objection to the motion to adjoura, and the exciting times were over until Monday.

THE DEAD PRELATE.

Prominent Churchmen Signify Their Intention of Attending the Funeral.

Arrangements for Archbishop Kenrick's funeral are about completed. The only de-tails are those regarding the removal of the runeral are abous completed. The only details are those regarding the removal of the body to the Cathedral and the solemn requiem services of Wednesday. These were given in detail in Friday's Post-Dispatch, with the exception of an escort of the dead Archbishop's Catholic neighbors, whom Archbishop Kain last evening invited to act as escort during the removal of the remains to the Cathedral.

These gentlemen are Valle Reyburn, John F. Lee, Pierre Chouteau, F. A. Drew, Theophile Papin, Jr., Julius Foy, F. D. Hirschberg and Edmund Waish, Jr.

In addition to the telegrams that came Friday Archbishop Kain received word today thas Archbishop Feehan of Chicago, accompanied by a chaplain, would attend the obsequies. Archbishop Elder of Cincinnatialso sent word of his coming. Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia, who was expected today, will not arrive until Monday evening. Bishops Mars and Montgomery of Califormia sees and Bishop Healey of Portland, Me., expressed regret and inability to be present. Bishops Heslin of Natchez, Miss, and Cosgrove of Davenport, Io., sent word that they would attend the obsequies.

The visiting Archbishops and Bishops will be entertained during their stay at the parochial residences of the local clergy or at the homes of their friends and relatives. Archbishop Ryan will be Archbishop Kain's guest.

The Archbishop has received requests from Archbishop Ryan will be Archbishop Rain's guest.

The Archbishop has received requests from many organized Catholic bodies to attend the funeral in a body. He has given out that while he can not refuse these requests is will be impossible to reserve space for them in the Cathedral on the day of the funeral.

Under no circumstances will children be admitted to the church during the services Wednesday morning.

NEWSBOYS FIGHT.

One Was 60 Years Old and the Othe Was Only 9.

He boards at the corner of Third and Elm streets.

After Fitzgerald's arrest he was taken to the home of his victim, and in the presence of the policeman told his story. The boy corroborated him.

Fitzgerald's version, in which he is supported by the police, is as follows: "I was playing cards with Mike Churchill Friday afternoon at his place, 21 North Ninth street. Rudge and several other boys were in the room at the time. All the boys were teasing me. Rudge kept kicking me. Several times I told him to stop, but he wouldn't. I finally picked him up by the legs and bumped his head on the floor. I didn't mean to hurt him, I only wanted to scare him."

Fitzgerald was locked up in the hold-over and a warrant charging assault with Pat McKee, lately from Chicago, got himself into trouble Friday night, because his methods weren't appreciated in St. Louis. McKee lives at 1108 Locust street and says he is a clerk at Barr's. In Chicago he worked at the Boston store.

Friday night McKee got drunk. He stayed about town and finally landed in a saloon on Tenth and Chestnut streets.

Two men standing at the bar got into an argument and McKee put in his oar, as he expresses it. The interpolation was resented and one of the men hit McKee in the face. He was sent to the Dispensary and from there to the City Hospital.

State University Boys Object to the President's Letters.

PETITION FOR RELIEF.

Students Claim That Parents Have Been Given False Notions of Their Young Hopefuls.

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 7 .- The students of the Missouri University are circulating a petition asking the Board of Curators to prohibit the indiscriminate writing of letters by President Jesse to parents and guardians.

To the Board of Curators:

To the Board of Curators:

During the present session our parents have been much annoyed by misleading letters. When we entered school we were requested to fill out a card giving among other things the name and address of our parent or guardian. Not knowing that this information would lead to much annoyance to our parents we compiled.

Early in the session a personal letter from the president was sent to every parent requesting that the parent's influence be exerted to have obeir sons and daughters attend school regularly. This letter was sent to the parents of that student who had never missed a class, as well as to the one who had never attended a class. The parents not understanding that these letters were sent according to an alphabetical list of all the students concluded that the situation was very grave or such a fetter never would have been sent, and were distrussed.

It was no easy matter for the regular stuthat the situation was very grave or such a letter never would have been sent, and were distressed.

It was an easy matter for the regular students to explain the situation and thus the parents of regular students were troubled and the students annoyed because of something of which they were not guilty. All this in order to reach a very few absentees. Next letters were sent asking that students be influenced to attend chapel. Then Y. M. C. A. letters were sent. During the recent trouble growing out of moving a walk each parent received two or three very grave letters.

In one case this letter was sent to a widow, whose only son was here, and who was not involved at all. The lady feared her son guilty of some grave offense, and became ill with nervous prostration. In another case the wife of a prominent gentleman of New London was made ill by worry occasioned by one of these letters.

In view of these facts we, the undersigned sjudents, hereby petition that indiscriminate letter-wriging be prohibited.

Some of the students either gave ficktious names and addresses of parents or gave their own name as name of guardian, and in this case the letters would be forwarded back here. Unless this petition is heeded this plan will be very generally followed next year. The parents are complaining, as well as the students. The petition will probably be signed by every student and will be presented to the board at its next meeting.

ANTI-TOXINE AT COLUMBIA. Diphtheria Cure May Be Had at the State University.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 7.—To-day 2,200 collumbia, Mo., March 7.—To-day 2,200 cubic centimeters of serum was taken from an immunized horse, which has been under treatment for the last three months at the State University. The present supply is nearly 200 doses and within a few weeks it will be increased by the yield from four other horses which are under treatment. The anti-toxine will be sent to anyone upon receipt of $1.25 per dose. Within a few months the price will be reduced to $1. As it is sold at cost every physician using it will be required to send in a report. In this way reliable statistics for Missouri as to diphtheria will be obtained. Dr. Graham, professor of bacteriology, is much pleased with his success, and is very enthusiastic as to the quality of the remedy produced in his laboratory.

important deal was practically con-mated in St. Louis Saturday, presentatives of Maj. Wm. McKinley racted for all the available hotel accom-

Representatives of Maj. Wm. McKinley contracted for aft the available hotel accommodation in the city.

This was done in the name of the Republican League Club of Ohio. A committee representing the club arrived in the city early Saturday morning and stopped at the Planters' Hotel. There were W. B. Gaitree, Vice-President of the club, of Columbus, O.: Thomas F. Clohesey of Cincinnati and W. R. Kisseth of Cleveland, O.

They were laden with McKinley badges, buttons, etc. The buttons were freely dispensed, and there was no doubt that the big Republican was well represented. The button was made up of a bust picture of Maj. McKinley, with the word "Protection" over the top of it.

The committee visited Proprietor Tom Miller of the St. James Hotel. They asked him if he could accommodate 700 persons for two weeks. He said he could. They wanted the place to accommedate one of the branches of the Republican League Club, representing enthusiasts from one city alone. They made an examination of the house and took in every detail. They wanted one large room for headquarters. After a little scheming the genlal notel man agreed to place the large billiant hall at their disposal. This was satisfactory and it was agreed to draw up a contract and have it signed, sworn to, attested, etc., on Monday.

At the Planters' the committee completed was agreed to draw up a contract and have it signed, sworn to, attested, etc., on Monday.

At the Planters' the committee completed arrangements to secure one hundred rooms. The St. Nicholas Hotel people were reminded of the telegraphic communications regarding Maj. McKiniey's personal quarters and Manager Harry Lewis of the Southern Hotel was visited.

The committee will remain here several days. The express purpose of their visit is to capture the smaller hotels such as Hurst's, the Laclede, the Terminal, the Rozier, Barnum's and others.

Mr. Hurst has as yet made no contract for rooms. In a communication he received recently from the Republican League Club of Ohio he was asked if he could accommodate 500 persons. He replied that he could, but the deal was not closed. The Moser Hotel has made no contracts, preferring to wait and room guests at their own prices during the convention.

The committee was absent from the hotel the greater portion of the day. In the morning Mr. Gaitree visited Mr. Samuel Kennard regarding the convention hall, printing, etc. They wanted to ascertain what arrangements had been made.

Mr. Gaitree said the Republican League Club would have over 1,500 representatives here. It is probable that headquarters will be located here as early as April. Mr. Gaitree arranged to establish his quarters at the Planters'.

SPRINKLING INSPECTORS.

How the New Appointees Figure in Republican Politics.

The new inspectors in the Street Sprinking Department appointed Friday by Street Commissioner Milner show a strengthening of the Walbridge and Ziegenhein combine in several of the wards. Among them John several of the wards. Among them John Owens, who is Republican Central Committeeman from the Third Ward, was a clerk in Zeigenhein's office, and Wm. Blerman, formerly overseer of cleaning, who is another member of the same committee, are both considered strong appointments.

The men who were thrown out to make room for the new appointees are: A. D. Matfeldt, who was Chris Schawacker's man from the First Ward, and J. M. Broadbent, a striker of Schweickert's from the same ward; Thos. B. Waish of the Sixth, who had tried to stand in with two Republican factions in his ward and was repudiated by both; Henry Gatzert in the Bighteenth, who is a Noonan barnacle; Adolph Berliner, now steward at the City Hospital; August Meler, who seems to be of no particular consequence as a political quantity, and Wm. Schumacher, father of the Central Committeeman from the Third Ward.

MR. AND MRS. TOOTLE

The Recent Mrs. Robinson and Her Husband Are Here.

John Tootle, son of the multi-millionaire, the late Milton Tootle of St. Joseph. Mo., d his newly made wife, formerly Cassius Robinson, are guests at the St. Nicholas Hotel. The two were wedded Nicholas Hotel. The two were wedded Wednesday in Colorado Springs, causing considerable surprise to the St. Louis friends of the bride.

She was a belle in society here, until six years ago, when she wedded Mr. Robinson of Milwaukee.

During the past winter it has been an open secret that husband and wife did not get along together. She left him and took up her residence at Colorado Springs, chaperoned by her mother. She was later legally separated. Dame Rumor had it that there was a rich man in the case.

And for once Dame Rumor seemed to have struck it right. The wedding of last Wednesday was the closing event. The couple accompanied by Mrs. Tootle's two children will remain here for several days.

Cleveland Wants to Push Him For the Presidency.

A SOUND MONEY PLATFORM.

Gov. Russell of Massachusetts Selected as Vice-President on This Ticket.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—Secredential nomination has not taken well, and another member of the Cleveland Administration is to be put forward on trial. This is Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle. It is not known that Mr. Carlisle is a party to the movement in his behalf, but without doubt it has the sanction of the President. Democratic officials who expect to be delegates to the National Convention in Chicago are privately announcing their determination to work for Mr. Carlisle on a sound money platform. The visit of the Secretary of the Treasury to New York recently, where he was dined at the Metropolitan Club and introduced to a limited number of bankers, who accepted an invitation which was general, is said to have been part of the President's plan to push the Kentucky statesman to the front.

It is said to be part of the Cleveland programme to put Carlisle at the head of the ticket as a representative Southerner, with "Billy" Russell of Massachusetts as the Vice-Presidential candidate. Gov. Russell has been at the White House much of late. He is now in Washington. tration is to be put forward on trial. This pecial to The Post-Dispatch.

AN OHIO ESTIMATE. Figures Showing That McKinley Will Win on the First Ballot.

AKRON, O., March 7.—A table showing the probable results of the first ballot in the St. Louis Convention is published by a St. Louis Convention is published by a local paper. The figures are most conservative and where any district is in doubt a candidate other than McKinley is given the benefit of it.

The figures were secured from a canvass of every Congressional district in the United States. They give McKinley 463 votes on the first ballot; necessary for a choice, 456. Reed secures 157, Morton 88, Allison 71, Quay 66, Cullorn 48 and Davis 18, making a total of 911.

McKinley is credited with the solid vote of the following States: Arkansas, Indiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, Oregon, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 7.—The Daily News says: The gavel to be used at the St. Louis says: The gavel to be used at the St. Louis convention is now in the possession of the National Republican Committee. Its maker, a man of Carthage, Ill., was in the city to-day receiving congratulations upon the happy inspiration which led him to place on one end of the mallet, made from wood of Lincoln's log cabin, a gold plate, and on the other end a silver one.

Reed Men Coming.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

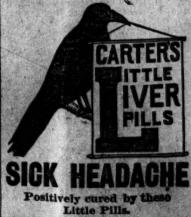

PORTLAND, Me., March 7.—It is now decided that the State of Maine Reed Club will go to St. Louis to look after the interests of New England's choice for the presidential nomination. At least 200 sturdy sons of the Pine Tree State will go, and they will represent the Republican voters of the State to a man.

An attempt is being made to get a cheap rate and if this is successful the ranks may be considerably swelled. It is expected that the presence of a body of men of this size from Reed's home will have a decided effect upon the convention. Special to The Post-Dispatch.

CULLOM'S HIGH HOPES. He Thinks He Will Get the Presidential Nomination.

to The Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7 .- Undismayed by the encroachments of the McKir ley men, who were caught red-handed poaching on his preserves, Senator Shelby M. poaching on his preserves, Senator Shelby M. Cullom of Illinois announces that he is still in the race for the Presidential nomination and in it for keeps. He says that he sees no reason for pulling out, but on the contrary has stronger reasons for believing that he will come under the wire first at St. Louis. The friends of Senator Cullom say that the basis of his hopes is the belief that the fight between Reed and McKinley, Quay and Morton will grow so warm that no Eastern man can be nominated. In that contingency his friends insist that Cullom is stronger than Allison, Davis or Manderson, in that he will have more votes to start with than either, and will have better prospects of catching the Eastern delegates if it shall be "a Western man or but."

The bodies were transposed Saturday morning and Schwarting's body now reposes in St. Marcus' Cemetery.

Chief Harrigan declines to deliver the money order to Schwacker, claiming that he did not comply with the terms of the contract. Chris claims that he is in the right, and may sue the Chief as custodian.

OPERATION FOR CANCER.

George Meier Provided with a New Intestinal Passage.

George Meler, 37 years old, who has prac tically eaten nothing for more than six months, passed through a very dangerous but successful operation at the City Hospital Saturday morning.

Meier lives at Granite City, Ill., and is a cooper. Six months ago he was at the hospital, but refused to be operated on A few days ago, almost starved to death, Meler returned and asked Dr. Sutter to operate on him.

A cancer on him.

A cancer on the right side at the pyloriend of the stomach prevented food from passing through the stomach into the intestinal canal. In this condition it was impossible for Meier to retain any food in his stomach. It would lay there are ferment and then be ajected through the assophogas.

Saturday morning Dr. Otto Sutter performed gastroenterostomy on Meier. A new opening was made in the stomach and part of the intestines were brought up and fitted to this opening corresponding incision was made in the intestinal canal and thus a new opening formed. The cancerwas then removed and the natural opening from the stomach to the intestinal canal permanently closed.

The operation was highly successful and the hospital records contain no parallel
